Kelsey Lindenschmidt

Ursuline Academy

This senior All-American is the youngest champ ever to win both the Ohio Women's Amateur Championship (at age 15 the youngest in the tournament's 81-year history) and the Ohio Junior Girls State Championship in the same year. A 4-year starter, Kelsey this season as last season was league and district champ, and Ohio state runner-up. Averaging 36.8, she was medalist 14 times, and was once again named GGCL, District, and Cincinnati Player of the Year as well as 1st team all Ohio. Kelsey last year was also named Golf Sportswoman of the Year by the Local Women's Sports Association. As a sophomore, she was featured in Sports Illustrated's Faces in the Crowd. An academic All-American and National Honor Society member, Kelsey is very active in Community service, and she will play next year at Northwestern U. Her favorite entertainer is Brad Pitt, favorite athlete is Brady Quinn and most like-to meet is Tiger Woods.

COACH'S QUOTE -- "Kelsey is tremendously skilled and, in addition, is a grinder and perfectionist. She has an amazing will to succeed in everything that she does." – Marianne Utz Sahms, Golf Coach
